Dear All,

Our annual, international emergency meeting in Karpacz is just round the corner, and its official title this year is:

24th Winter Symposium of Emergency Medicine and Intensive Care Karpacz, February 25th – 28th, 2015 r.

Following our tradition, we have invited numerous great speakers who will make their appearances alongside representatives of the Polish academic emergency medicine: Gary Gaddis, Lisa Moreno – Walton, Rebecca Liggin, Ashley Bean, Dan O'Brien, Terrence Mulligan, Bob Suter, Anthony Martin and many others.

The scientific program of the meeting is very diverse and will cover both emergency medicine clinical issues, and organizational issues related to the operation and financing of its organizational units. Special attention will be given to medical specialization and specialist exams in emergency medicine.

There will be a number of workshop sessions held during the conference, including: new aspects of in-hospital triage in emergency departments, point of care diagnostics (POC), hemodynamics in critical care, peritrauma fast track proceedings, initial intensive care in emergency departments, ethics and legal responsibility in emergency medicine.

Our annual pre-symposium event „Extreme Rescue Trophy 2015” is a special competition for Emergency Medicine teams in extreme off-road conditions.

The symposium will also feature dedicated scientific sessions for paramedics, nurses and students from academic circles of emergency medicine.

Students participating in the symposium, workshops and accompanying competitions will be awarded credit points.

Due to international nature of the event, the official language of the Symposium, next to Polish, will be English.

The Symposium will be accompanied by a medical trade fair.

Forms for registration, booking and submitting work can be downloaded from www.medycynaratunkowa.wroc.pl

Papers and summaries should be submitted to ptmr@umed.wroc.pl. Deadline for submissions is February 2nd, 2015.
